REPORT OF THE PROGRAM

1	Program Name	Webinar on "ETHICS FOR A TEACHER"
2	Date of program	10.09.2020
3	Resource person:	Dr. A. Anna Lakshmi
4	Participants
5	Objective of program	The main objective of the webinar is to give a clear insight to the maintenance of dignity and interest of the profession by maintaining high standard of professional and personal conduct.
6	Program description	The program started with a welcome address and introduction to the resource person by Dr. A. Anna Lakshmi, Principal in charge. 50 faculty members of all branches attended the webinar. The resource person explained in detail about Ethics for a Teacher. The Teacher should deal justly and impartially with students regardless of their social, economic, regional and religious background. They should recognise the differences among students and seek to meet their individual needs and also encourage the students to work for higher individual goals. She also advised the teacher to be loyal to the institute system and the country. Seek to make professional growth continuous by such procedures as study, research, and attending conferences, professional meetings and continuing education programmes. The HoD motivated the staff members and conveyed the importance of the webinar. The session concluded with an interactive session between the Resource person and the faculties in which the queries of the teachers were addressed satisfactorily. The session was very clear, understandable and informative. The session ended with a vote of thanks by the program coordinator, Mrs. M. Suganthi, AP/CSE.
8	Outcome of this program	It suggests bridging the gap between ethical theory and cases by teaching ethical dilemmas and issues that are likely to be encountered in daily professional life.

REPORT OF THE PROGRAM

1	Program Name	Seminar on "ETHICS FOR STUDENTS"
2	Date of program	07.12.2020
3	Resource person:	Dr. R. Rajakumari
4	Participants	98
5	Objective of program	The main objective of the seminar is to give a students, Think for themselves about moral principles, values and virtues as well as concepts such as equal human worth, and make good decisions so that they may have good, productive lives in society.
6	Program description	The program started with a welcome address and introduction to the resource person by Dr. R. Rajakumari, HoD. 150 students of all branches attended the seminar. She discusses the following factors: Student development theory provides a framework for empowering students in these life tasks. The five ethical principles that inform our work as student life professionals are 1) Autonomy, 2) Prevent Harm, 3) Do Good, 4) Justice, and 5) Fidelity. In the goal of autonomy, we recognize the need for students to become increasingly independent. With a clearer sense of self, students develop an increased sense of confidence and self-direction. Students must answer the question, "What does it mean to become independent and responsible? Secondly, within this increased sense of autonomy, we must prevent harm. However, avoiding harm is not an end in itself; we want to provide the opportunity to do good. Interacting within a campus context, we treat each other with equity. Student Life professionals value justice: recognizing that individuals are different, we retain objectivity in our perception of each other. We also understand that trust is critical for developing relationships. Fidelity is reflected in our commitment to confidentiality, professionalism and knowledge of our abilities and limitations. To be most meaningful, trust and confidentiality is embraced by both faculty and students when engaging sensitive issues. The HOD motivated the students and conveyed the importance of the seminar. The session concluded with an interactive session between the Resource person and the students in which the queries of the students were addressed satisfactorily. The session was very clear, understandable and informative. The session ended with a vote of thanks by the program coordinator, Mr. D. G. David, AP/CSI.
